Government, and has received a reply totally denying all the rumours of evacuation." In the light of the earlier telegram, however, it is impossible to look upon the denial as absolutely authoritative, for the matter had to go before the Chamber for decision, and this decision was not expected so early. The denial of the Government was probably given in anticipation of the result of the vote in the Chamber, which; so far as is known, has not yet been given. It is of course morally certain that the country will not be evacuated, for this would mean a great loss of French prestige in the Far East, and might also lead to trouble in French Cochin-China, besides which the moral aspect of the question cannot be overlooked. When a Thoebaw. consultation was held, when it was decided that the patient had a cancer in the stomach, and, in order to save the patient's life, an operation was justifiable. Accordingly, on Feb. 22, 1883, the operation was performed by Dr. Vance, in the presence of Dr. Tuckerman, Dr. Perrier, Dr. Arms, Dr. Gordon, Dr. Lapuer, and Dr. Halliwell of the Police Board. The operation consisted in laying open the cavity of the abdomen and exposing the stomach, bowels, liver, and pancreas. When this had been done, an examination of the organs was made, but, to the horror and dismay of the doctors, there was no cancer to be found. The patient did not have a cancer When too late, the medical men discovered that they had made a terrible mistake. They sewed the parts together and dressed the wound that they had made, but the poor woman sank from exhaustion and died in a few hours.
